Saint Elizabeth has a long history of promoting leadership, social responsibility and service to others. We’re looking for motivated students with strong convictions and the desire to be in an environment with an unwavering system of values.

Syrus S., ‘23
Criminal Justice

Syrus S. has dedicated his life to being a positive role model for his two nephews. Constantly working to better himself, Syrus chose Saint Elizabeth University to pursue a degree in criminal justice.

“I hope my nephews not only emulate my volunteerism, levelheadedness and commitment to education,” says Syrus, “but also follow in my footsteps and break barriers in their own communities.”

As for Syrus, he prides himself on his ability to start critical conversations impacting the world today. He intends on entering the law enforcement field upon graduating from Saint Elizabeth University.

“A lot of the problems in this world can be solved with a conversation. It’s the first step in making anything better.”

Taylor V., ‘20
Communication/Business

While her classmates were just entering high school, Taylor V. was already preparing for college. As a participant in a rigorous pre-collegiate program, Taylor earned 18 college credits by high school graduation.

“I knew from a very young age that I wanted to go to college,” says Taylor, a first-generation college student who majored in both communication and business administration at SEU.

Attending SEU on a Presidential Scholarship, Taylor played on the soccer and basketball teams and participated in an internship at a local radio station.

Today, Taylor is working at Fox News in New York City, building toward her dream of becoming a news anchor.

The key to understanding other people is learning their stories...I want to promote understanding between people to foster a more peaceful environment.”

EXPLORING OPPORTUNITIES

We pride ourselves on providing quality, outcome-driven educational opportunities that guide and transform students into the men and women that help shape our world.

It should be no surprise that the University itself is also constantly evolving. With the introduction of undergraduate coeducation and the launch of a new brand, Saint Elizabeth University is committed to providing a globally-focused, relevant education for a fast-paced and ever-changing world.

COMMUNITY FOCUSED. INDIVIDUALLY DRIVEN.

We allow students at all levels to discover and explore their passions through the robust academic and extracurricular offerings. Students are exposed to faculty and staff whom are passionate about what they do and are eager to pass that on to the students they work with.

Jessica V., ’20
Biology

The first in her family to graduate from college, Jessica (pictured left, center, with classmates) credits the support of her family and the SEU community with helping her earn a degree in biology. The financial support of several scholarships and a rigorous academic program, known as SEU Promise, also played a tremendous role in her success.

“I’ve been involved in many programs that were only possible because of the University’s close-knit community,” said Jessica.

Already certified in phlebotomy and working as an EMT, Jessica had the opportunity to shadow several different physicians and a few surgeons while at the University. During one of these rotations, Jessica witnessed her first open heart surgery and fell in love with the idea of becoming a cardiologist.

Ava P., ’22
Early Childhood Education/English

Ever since she was born, Ava P. has had many medical challenges to overcome. With the help of her family, friends and doctors, these obstacles have never stopped Ava from achieving her dreams. A double major in Early Childhood Education and English with a minor in Special Education, Ava plans on beginning a career in teaching.

“Saint Elizabeth is known as a teaching school,” explains Ava, who works at a daycare and has always loved working with children. “The University put me into the classroom freshman year just so they could see if I really wanted to continue teaching. Other schools put their students in the classroom far too late.”

Ava has made the most of her time at Saint Elizabeth by becoming a Student Ambassador, Orientation Leader and a member of the E-Board for the Elizabethan Education Association.

SEU PROMISE

The SEU Promise provides a six month paid internship to graduates who are not employed or in graduate school within six months.

Visit steu.edu/seupromise for details.

Saint Elizabeth is home to 12 NCAA Division III women’s and men’s sports teams. The student-athletes at SEU compete for the love of the sport, the thrill of competition, the fulfillment of contributing to their college community and teammates, and their own personal growth.

In the last five years, Saint Elizabeth University has quadrupled its number of student-athletes. With just 50 Eagles in 2015 and more than 200 today, the growth of the program spotlights the athletic department’s commitment to our student-athletes.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Saint Elizabeth’s multiple funding opportunities allow students to focus on classes – not on how they’re going to pay for them.

DID YOU KNOW:
• SEU awards more than one-third of its annual budget to student aid programs
• 98% of undergraduate students receive some form of financial assistance through SEU institutional scholarships, state and federal funding, or private scholarships
• The average incoming full-time undergraduate student receives approximately $33,000 in financial support

FINANCIAL AID IS AVAILABLE IN THREE DIFFERENT FORMS:
• Scholarships and grants that do not have to be repaid
• Work-study opportunities – on-campus jobs that provide financial aid benefits
• Low-interest student and parent loans that are repaid over 10 – 30 years

Every student, regardless of income level and credit, qualifies for a Federal Direct Loan. You must file your FAFSA to be eligible.

For further information please visit steu.edu/financialaid or call 973-290-4445.

HOW TO APPLY FOR FINANCIAL AID

1. Apply for admission to Saint Elizabeth University.
2. Complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Go to fafsa.gov for the application.
   - NOTE: You should file your FAFSA annually as soon as possible after October 1, but no later than April 15 to maximize your access to the different financial assistance programs available. You can still file after April 15 and aid will be awarded based on remaining funding levels.
   - You should indicate Saint Elizabeth University as the school to receive your information. Our Federal School Code is 002600.
   - Approximately three to five days after you submit the FAFSA online, you will receive an email allowing you to view your Student Aid Report (SAR) online. Saint Elizabeth University will receive your information from the federal government.
3. Financial aid offers will be sent in early December each year. You will receive an award notification from SEU that will tell you the federal, state, and/or University aid for which you qualify.
